

RM2Lab computing cluster

General informations

RM2Lab is a computing cluster that allows users to :

- Create on demand resources
- Submit jobs on an htcondor based htc cluster
- Request persistent virtual machines

All cluster resources have access to the same shared datastore, allowing you to share files between different computing instances.

For further information about storage setup (and persistency) please visit dedicated section.